

About Doug Plumb

You will have to excuse my lack of establishment style to this CV. I haven't done one of these in a long time. In this I will tell you a little bit more about myself.

Born: 1964 London Ontario

Attended high school and graduated in 1981 with average grades. I never did homework and wasn't interested in what they were teaching me. I did have an avid interest in physics, electricity, sound reproduction and solar energy. I went to college for technology but left shortly into the program to work, planning to attend school later and upgrade academic skills to study engineering.

I went back to school for engineering in 1990 after upgrading my skills to study engineering. I graduated the program in 1995 and started my own business producing and selling a program that measures sound for engineers and technicians and have been selling this program ever since from the internet. It has been favourably reviewed by many magazines on the subject in return for no advertising dollars and now sells based on word-of-mouth with the exception of one $50.00/month advertisement.

I developed a gradual interest in politics from recognising that things were not as we were being told by the "establishment" such as the reasons for war and the sources of crime and evil in general. In 2001-2002 I learned about how money came into existence and began to learn and read about what is happening more intensely. I began to learn that all of the terrible things that are happening are not the result of co-incidences. In general I am not a conspiracy theorist. I work from facts and prefer not to speculate on possible conspiracies.

I believe that society lobotomizes people through media violence and pornography and that many people no longer understand the difference between good and evil. Government is like a fire and it has grown out of control. Government should not provide leadership, it should be a tool of the people to protect people from imperialism and monopolistic capitalism and maintain freedom and human rights so that humanity can progress beyond concerns of unnecessary conflicts. I believe government is now working with the corporations against people rather than protecting people from corporations.
