

Give Truth A Chance

Someone once said that government is like a fire. It should be small when necessary and carefully watched else it will burn out of control.

We Canadians are in three foreign countries forcing our will at gunpoint for no benefit to Canadian people. We must ask "Who do our armies work for?"

The official version of 911 can be falsified into absurdity by anyone that is not a fanatical coincidence theorist or that has some knowledge of only very basic physics.

Col Robert Bowman directed the Space Defence Initiative under Ronald Reagan and has a Phd in Nuclear engineering and a Phd in Aeronautical engineering had this to say about 911: "Its a pile of hogwash; its impossible". Dr Bowman now teaches university level English literature.

Sites such as Architects & Engineers for 911 truth, (ae911truth.org), Scholars for 911 Truth (stj911.org) & Patriots For 911 Truth (PatriotsQuestion911.com) also say the same thing although not as eloquently as the English instructor.

The British Supreme Court ruled that the movie "An Inconvenient Truth" was full of deceptions and misrepresentations and viewers of this movie should also watch "The Great Global Warming Swindle" or similar. It only makes sense for people to listen to what the nay-sayers have to say and intelligent people will always look at all sides of a story before making choices or voting. My favorite is "Global Warming or Global Governance" by Michael Coffman and its free on Google video.

The scientific idea of global warming does not need to be discredited to show that it is highly unlikely, no more likely than a meteor about to collide with the earth and split it in two. The peddlers of global warming peddle political science and grossly misinterpret data and use slight of hand rather than actual science. This is well illustrated in the aforementioned videos. Give truth a chance look at both sides of the global warming debate. One side clearly wins.

Previously depleted oil wells are somehow getting refilled. This is happening all over the world and this nullifies the peak oil myth. You won't hear about this on TV but you can research Russian oil export statistics on the web. Russia now exports 70 % of its crude- during the cold war it had to import oil. The peak oil myth can be falsified with a little bit of research. There is more oil in Alberta & Alaska alone than we need and that's even if we continue to drive gas powered cars. Of course if the peak oil myth was true we would be driving electric powered cars.

The overpopulation curves look like one of Al Gores hockey stick curves, yet they too, along with Global warming get accepted without question.

I have just outlined some examples of popular myths that when taken together expose a "Strategy of Tension" rather than a strategy of truth. This strategy inoculates people from critical thought and reflection through the application of psychological stress.

The public is completely disengaged from reality. People readily admit that the corporate news is lying to them but if you point out examples you are labeled a conspiracy theorist. There must be a grand mind control conspiracy at work for people to think like this.

The lack of critical thinking is key to the success of the North American Union and for Codex Alimentarius.

I suggest researching the topic of Codex Alimentarius on the internet. All you need to know is what is in UN documents. Codex Alimentarius is a depopulation plan through food, nutrition, drugs and GMO crops. All seeds will come from Monsanto. Needed vitamin supplements will be restricted.

The North American Union will be a whole new society, it is not the simple joining of three countries. It is the creation of a new state under communitarian law. Communitarian law requires the removal of private property and individual rights.

Civil rights are being removed through the fear of terrorism and it gives reason for the police state

Private property rights will be pencil whipped and taxed from the public under the guise of protecting the environment. Public property will continue to be polluted because people are too busy or distracted from stopping it. There are more urgent matters.

The police state will be in place before most of the public wakes up to what is going on. This is happening all over the world. We in North America stand head and shoulders above others in terms of both power and stupidity.

Professionals are self governed and do not answer to the electorate. In practical terms professionals are a large part of real government. They compute taxes, operate the legal system, and build society infrastructure as well as provide health care. Doctors are no longer required to take the Hypocratic oath. We live in a scientific dictatorship today.

The new rulers will have complete control over every human being on the planet as well as complete control over human evolution for all time forward. They are the robber barons of the 19th century and no one will ever undo their plans once they are fully implemented.

The global government will preserve the status quo for those who have only a better business sense than everyone else. Neoconservatism rewrites the Golden rule "He Who Has The Gold Rules" and degrades all other human qualities other than good business sense to irrelevance. Power becomes privilege rather than responsibility under imperialism and monopolized corporatism. The global free trade agreements erase borders and people are no longer protected from unfettered imperialism and corporate monopolies.

Only a fool would commit an act of terrorism. This is why history shows most acts of terrorism are in fact committed by government in what is known as a false flag operation.

Intelligent people ask questions, others accept what they are told.

We must stop the robber barons, the North American Union and the world fascist dictatorship that is emerging. The only way to stop this is to re-engage the public in critical thought so that this knowledge spreads throughout society. There are lots of people out there that know what is going on but have given up. We must show them that the antiglobalization movement is once again alive and kicking.

Although the public has disengaged from the political process, the banks and corporations have remained engaged and have taken the reins to lead us down a very dark path. We must re-engage in the political process to take the system back. We do this by electing ordinary people to re-form a government of the people. We recreate openness for a free and open society.

Bruce Springsteen & Billy Joel said it best " There is a code of silence that can't go on".
